Dear Shai Yahli Bader,

RE:APPLICATION FOR SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT INTERNSHIP

I am Aniso Kilas, an entry level software developer eager to explore opportunities for growth and practical application of my technical skills I have honed during my time at AkiraChix. I am writing to apply for an internship as a software developer at LogPoint.

I am thrilled by LogPoint's initiative to provide organizations with a platform that enables them to thrive in a world that is full of cybersecurity threats. I am eager to learn your technologies and contribute to your building cybersecurity solutions that help champion business growth by providing businesses with timely threat insights.

I am currently immersed in a project addressing Somalia's low immunization coverage. My focus lies in bolstering vaccine acceptance, accessibility, and tracking for underserved children. Our innovative solution encompasses a device that uses modern fingerprint and data collection for streamlined child data capture, complemented by an interactive dashboard. This journey has honed my skill set in crafting impactful technological solutions. Joining the LogPoint team would provide me an avenue to explore new technologies, amplify my capabilities, and contribute meaningfully to your company's mission.

Sincerely,
Aniso Kilas.
